Protocol for Board Activities and Public Meetings

We don't yet know when Governor Inslee will fully lift restrictions from the "Stay Home, Stay Healthy" order that will permit our employees to conduct in-office / on-site work. What we do know is — when restrictions are lifted — we all must continue to be careful to avoid catching and spreading COVID-19. We are actively monitoring Thurston County Public Health and Social Services announcements on progression of Thurston County through the phases of the Safe Start Plan and responding accordingly. That's why we're planning ahead to ensure proper precautions are in place.

Our first priority is health and safety.

We're taking seriously the workplace recommendations from health care authorities in order to best protect you. Once we're permitted to and determine that it is safe to return to regular public meeting methods and routine board activities, here are some protocols that must be followed to ensure we take good care of ourselves and each other. Specific protocols around sanitation, hygiene, and illness follow guidance from the Center for Disease Control (CDC) and Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) Guidance on Preparing Workplaces for COVID-19.

Protocols will be revised as necessary based on changes in the COVID-19 situation.

Board Supervisor Activities:

- TCD Board Supervisors are encouraged to participate in TCD Board Meetings and Work Sessions remotely, as allowed in TCD Policy 1.2.1 Board Supervisor Remote Attendance, to help prevent the spread of COVID-19. Open Public Meetings Act (OPMA) guidelines for public meetings will be strictly followed, including any and all exemptions or modifications set forth by Governor Inslee.
 - Once permitted and determined safe by the TCD Board to host public meetings in the building, the Office and Meeting Requirements below will be followed by all attendees.
- Board Supervisors who are ill or display symptoms of illness are asked to stay home and refrain from visiting the TCD office or meeting with staff.
 - If they travel into the building and have symptoms consistent with COVID-19, we will transition immediately to telework for all employees until a deep clean has been completed.

	spread of COVID-19.
J	Board Supervisors who are higher risk or have household members at higher risk for serious illness from COVID-19 are encouraged to participate in TCD business remotely until at which time they deem appropriate. See CDC risk factors .
J	Board Supervisors will continue to avoid large in-person meetings or gatherings and continue to participate via web and/or phone. This guidance will continue to adhere to group sizes recommended in the Safe Start Plan.
	o Even after restrictions for in-person meetings are lifted, consider whether it is vital to attend a meeting in person. Our goal is to minimize our attendance at in-person meetings and only physically attend those absolutely necessary, even after restrictions are lifted by Governor Inslee.
	 Social distancing and all other CDC guidelines must be followed for any in-person visits.
Office a	and Meeting Requirements:
	Maintain a minimum physical distance of at least six feet from another person at all times.
J	Sanitize surfaces frequently using EPA-approved disinfectants .
	 Cleaning materials will be available to all TCD staff, including field staff.
J	Wash hands frequently with liquid hand soap. See CDC guidance.
	 Liquid hand soap and sanitizer will be available to all staff, including field staff.
	Wear a face mask when you are entering, exiting, in common spaces or hallways within the office. Masks will be provided to all TCD supervisors and staff, or you may wear your own mask for comfort or style. See CDC guidance on masks/face coverings . Note that cloth face coverings should be routinely washed depending on the frequency of use.
	Avoid going into individual staff members' workspaces, and please don't touch employee phones, desks, offices, door knobs or other work tools and equipment.
	Common areas (lobby, bathrooms, conference room) will be sanitized before and after all meetings, including door knobs, counters and tables, sinks and faucets, toilets, handrails and other touch points.
	The TCD Board of Supervisors recognizes that some medical conditions prevent the use of masks. Use of other PPE is strongly encouraged; however, members of the public are welcome to attend meetings as they are. TCD board and staff support transparency in government and Board Supervisors with an ill household member can follow CDC precautions to help prevent the

Protocol for TCD Volunteers

Thurston Conservation District is excited to once again offer volunteer opportunities for our residents and encourage them to safely get involved in their watershed. As Thurston County and the State of Washington start to reopen and allow for outdoor volunteer opportunities, TCD will be following changing regulations and will be updating our policies and guidelines accordingly. The following guidelines are broad and are meant to encompass all volunteer opportunities at this time. As TCD staff communicates with volunteers, more specific information will be given based on the program.

We don't yet know when Governor Inslee will fully lift restrictions from the "Stay Home, Stay Healthy" order that will permit our employees to conduct in-office / on-site work. What we do know is — when restrictions are lifted — we all must continue to be careful to avoid catching and spreading COVID-19. Protocols will be revised as necessary based on changes in the COVID-19 situation.

Volunteer's Responsibility:

- If you are feeling sick in any way, do not sign up or show up for a volunteer event.
- Please wear a face covering over their nose and mouth except when engaged in physical activity and when able to maintain 6 feet of distance.
 - o Please bring their own masks, but TCD will have some on hand for those that need one.
 - We understand that some members of our community are unable to wear masks and ask that you contact us directly for specific accommodations. We look forward to working you to ensure that your participation is safe and enjoyable for all.

)	Gloves are required when touching communal materials, and must be provided by each participant.
	You are required to maintain 6 feet of distance between all other volunteers that are not a part of their immediate household.
	Please bring your own snacks and a reusable water bottle, already filled, and any other items you need to be comfortable for working outdoors. This includes your own work gloves and any other personal tools to get the job done. TCD will have tools and gloves available for those that need them

Please use hand sanitizer immediately following any sharing of tools or other materials, touching of the face, and touching of face coverings with bare hands.

TCD's Responsibility – Tools, Materials, and PPE

- TCD will provide necessary tools and materials for the work being performed. This includes but is not limited to gloves, shovels, buckets, trash grabbers, and other hand tools, etc. along with extra disposable masks for those who do not have their own.
 - At the end of each work day, all tools and materials will be cleaned as per the currently accepted guidelines for surfaces.
- TCD will be providing hand sanitizer for volunteers to use throughout the workday.
- TCD will not be providing communal water for refilling of water bottles. We will make sure to have a case of individual water available to volunteers.

1. PROJECT TITLE

Frogs on the Farm

Alternative idea: Frogs, Farms & Families FFF

2. PROBLEM STATEMENT

Oregon spotted frogs rely on short stature, seasonally inundated wet meadows for oviposition, a habitat type that has been highly degraded by reed canarygrass encroachment and changes in hydrology.

3. PROJECT OBJECTIVES / BENEFITS

The objective of this project will be to sustainably enhance habitat for the Oregon spotted frog within the Black River watershed and surrounding Oregon spotted frog priority areas (critical habitat).

Benefits include:

- Enhancing a minimum of 32 acres of wetland habitat in the Black River watershed and surrounding priority areas.
- Knowledge gained and communicated on innovative habitat restoration techniques for Oregon spotted frog oviposition habitat
- Landscape scale assessment of potential habitat restoration for Oregon spotted frogs on private property in the Black River watershed and surrounding priority areas.
- The ability to share information and resources with Nisqually National Wildlife Refuge. The refuge is currently implementing similar practices on their "Black River Unit". Practices implemented through this agreement will only further enhance their efforts by reducing habitat fragmentation and controlling invasive species.
- Indirect habitat benefits for migratory birds, Olympic mudminnow, bats, and various reptile & amphibian species.

4. PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Thurston Conservation District has been working with landowners in the Black River watershed and surrounding areas throughout the Oregon spotted frog listing process. TCD is uniquely situated and equipped to help lead this innovative, landscape scale, multi-benefit project on private properties. TCD has identified fear of regulation and uncertainty as the primary limiting factors for landowners who would be otherwise interested in improving and restoring the wetland habitats on their property. This voluntary and non-regulatory program will address these concerns by providing regulatory certainty, while facilitating effective partnerships and restoration.

Much of the functional habitat for Oregon spotted frog (Rana pretiosa) provided by seasonal wetlands in Western Washington occurs on privately owned land and has been highly altered by the invasion of reed canarygrass (Phalaris arundinacea) (Kapust et al. 2012). This invasive grass has also been shown to dramatically reduce native plant and invertebrate diversity (Schooler et al. 2006, Spyreas et al. 2010). Efforts to control reed canarygrass have included combinations of mowing, herbicide, burning, grazing, and native planting, all with varying levels of success (Paveglio 2000, Hamman 2016). Mowing in particular has been employed across multiple sites occupied by R. pretiosa to annually create oviposition habitat (Kapust et al. 2012). This is an incredibly labor-intensive strategy and may not be possible at wetter sites or during wetter years when heavy equipment access is limited by high water or saturated soils. Additionally, while this strategy does create temporary oviposition habitat during the months of January-March, it is not a true 'control' method for reed canarygrass and, when implemented alone, does not allow for substantial improvements in the native plant communities.

This agreement will implement of a suite of conservation practices that will improve and protect OSF habitat. These practices include, but are not limited to: prescribed grazing, wetland restoration, native planting, invasive vegetation control (mechanical and chemical), invasive species control (Bullfrog), and livestock exclusion fencing.

Prescribed, rotational grazing of wetland areas has been identified as an effective and efficient method of vegetation management for the restoration of OSF breeding habitat. The information gained through a current PFW agreement (F18AC00491 Grazing Management Regimes for OSF Habitat) will help guide future practices implemented under this agreement. Landowners that currently are grazing through a prescribed grazing management plan will be given preference under this agreement.

5. FISH PASSAGE BARRIERS

N/A

6. CLIMATE CHANGE

Warmer and wetter winters could impact both reed canarygrass infestation and oviposition locations. This project will continue to provide guidance on sustainable and adaptive management strategies that could promote more diverse, resilient native plant communities. Improved plant communities will provide the opportunity to expanded and connect Oregon spotted frog habitat.

7. INVASIVE SPECIES PREVENTION

A majority, if not all, of project sites will harbor invasive species. The species that we are most concerned about is reed canarygrass (Phalaris arundinacea). Both mechanical and chemical control methods will be available through this agreement. Mechanical methods alone will not substantially reduce reed canarygrass infestations, they will only delay its dominance while continuing to provide suitable oviposition habitat. Additionally, seasonal site conditions can make mowing difficult, if not impossible, due to limited heavy equipment access. This species will be targeted with grazing prescriptions aimed at exhausting the carbohydrate reserves, leading to lower cover and density. Staff and contractors will take careful caution to rinse seeds from boots, tires, and equipment before entering or leaving the site to limit any spread to additional sites. The effects of treatments will also be monitored to inform future practices.

8. PARTNERS

Thurston Conservation District (TCD) – TCD will work collaboratively with the USFWS to establish voluntary partnerships with private landowners and to develop projects that maximize benefits to federal trust resources, with emphasis on Oregon spotted frog. TCD will maintain an official award file and assist with the completion of a sub-recipient agreement with each private landowner selected for funding. Landowners will not be reimbursed until a PFW biologist has verified the project has been completed according to specifications. Additionally, TCD will keep an accurate and up-to-date record of the funds available through this project.

Private Landowners – Projects that will rank high for this initiative are those that have active involvement from the private landowner. We anticipate that, in most situations, private landowners will assist with the site preparation, implementation, or monitoring of some practices.

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) – Partners for Fish and Wildlife (PFW) staff will develop the projects in conjunction with TCD, help design restoration activities, and ensure construction is done in accordance with FWS 640.1, Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program policies. PFW biologists will also assist with practice implementation. It will be the responsibility of the PFW biologists to complete the Section 7 endangered species, NEPA, and cultural resources clearances, and to provide that information to TCD for the official award file.

9. MONITORING

Monitoring activities will include annual Oregon spotted frog egg mass surveying. This monitoring will occur in late winter to early spring, depending on temperatures, and will follow established USFWS survey protocol. Additionally, monitoring of vegetation composition will occur. For the first three years of the contract, vegetation monitoring activities will occur annually, then every other year, or as deemed appropriate for the remainder of the project contract.

10. OUTREACH

Outreach for this project may include, but will not be limited to, landowner workshops within priority areas, targeted mailings, and communications/site visits with previous TCD participants. Other conservation organizations and agencies will be made aware of this funding as they may have interested landowners or can provide matching funds/in-kind services.

The funds can also be used to purchase materials if the landowner or partner(s) agrees to use the materials to complete the work per the outlined specifications. Materials that can be purchased must be associated with fence building, invasive species control, wetland restoration, monitoring, or related activities approved by USFWS.

Private Landowner (In-kind):

Each site and landowner will vary with the type of in-kind services they can provide, as well as what materials/services they will need from this agreement. This agreement is flexible as individual sites differ in what they will require for site preparation and establishment.

- General labor will be given a value of $29.00/hr + cost of materials, if applicable
- Prescribed grazing: $13.39 per head per day

Priority Initiative Updates

Urban Agriculture Initiative

We have successfully put together and held two online workshops related to backyard gardening and are currently planning a third related to planting a winter garden and also a live or video demo of some food preservation or 'preserving the harvest'. Through this project we have also begun planning for the Bounty For Families Yelm Community Garden! We have facilitated connections between Bounty for Families, GRuB, the City of Yelm, and Yelm High School Career Technical Education/FFA students to start designing, planning, and implementing a demonstration garden site at Yelm City Park. We are hopeful to fund and build out the gardens so they can be productive for the 2021 growing season. Finally, this project has allowed us to finish updating the long awaited Urban Livestock Management Manual! A final draft is expected to be completed in July and sent to the printers in August. This will be a publication focused on best practices for keeping small livestock in urban and suburban spaces and include local resources. We are planning to share this program and the outcomes via an upcoming NACD monthly online webinar series they offer for CDs across the country.

Shore Friendly South Sound

The Shore Friendly South Sound collaboration between Thurston, Pierce and Mason CDs, coordinated by Thurston CD, is moving along steadily. We have already made 1156 contacts (inquiries, emails, phone calls, mailing recipients). We currently have 30 waterfront homeowners receiving technical assistance, 13 of them in Thurston County. Importantly we already have 3 bulkhead removal projects in development, one in Thurston County near Zangle Cove and two in Mason County, on Totten Inlet and in Pickering Passage (Harstine Island). All three projects were proposed for grant funding to the ESRP Small Grants program and made it through the first round of cuts. We present our proposals to the technical reviewers at the end of July and should hear about award decisions by the early fall. Construction is anticipated for the late summer marine "fish window" of 2021 or 2022, depending on permitting and funding. The next step in the short term will be to issue RFQs for a consulting geologist and a coastal engineer. See more information about Shore Friendly Thurston here: https://www.thurstoncd.com/stewardship/shore-friendly/

 - Attended (or coordinated) meetings including Floodplains By Design; WRIA 13 WREC projects subgroup; Shore Friendly South Sound Team; Ecology-Thurston County PIC; Green Cove Basin Project Development Planning; WA Water Trust; WRIA 13 Lead Entity meeting etc.
 - Participating as a Shoreline Advisory Committee Member led by WA Sea Grant to identify training priorities for marine shoreline construction & consulting community
- TCD Technical Team Coordination
 Held 9 remote meetings with tech team members to support District activities
- In the month of June I had the opportunity to present information about my career, the District, and our programs and services to a Youth Corps group. I lead a reflection activity where members shared their personal feelings about their connections with nature and what they had learned from their term with the Youth Corps. It was wonderful to hear stories and thoughts form the members! Many were interested in the District and excited to learn more about careers in the natural resource field.
- We held a Pasture Management workshop online on June 30th. There were 40 live attendees, but the reach of the workshop in its recorded format has been much broader! 113 people to date have directly requested and received a copy of the recording. We are finding this to be a great advantage of online workshops and the ability to record them.
- I filed away 25 banker boxes to be archived by the state. I continued to organize and take inventory of our tools and supplies. I emptied our shed and moved the tools to the office. Being the only person in the office means I spend time writing up PO's for Sarah to sign. I help Susan invoice for Grant Vouchers. Finally the Equipment Program is very busy.
- Got to work closely with the Mason CD engineer to oversee construction on a new Waste Storage Facility that will help protect critical areas in the shellfish district.
- June: Hosted Zoom Nearshore field trips for Komachin Middle School; adapted curriculum and training to online platforms; worked with North Thurston Public Schools to develop new model that includes all 5th grade classes for next year; worked to develop 5 year report for ILA renewal with Cities of Olympia, Lacey, Tumwater and Thurston Co.
- One highlight of the month was finishing up my first year the district. It's hard to believe that it's been a year! This month was packed with a lot of exciting projects. I finished a publication on Irrigation Water Management that we can distribute to landowners. Also, I've done a lot of work finalizing elements on a Story Map, while starting work on another for work by South Sound Green
