Local Nurseries that Carry Native Plants

These are nurseries in Thurston County that carry some native plants, but primarily focus on garden and ornamental varieties. Typically natives from these nurseries will be potted, fairly large, and are more expensive than other options. If you need only a handful of plants, need potted stock or need a local option, these are great choices. Tips: Always call before you arrive if you are looking for a specific plant. Always take your plant list with you and check that the scientific names match.
